

Van Buren County Revolving Loan Fund

Finance your potential

"I've got 50 percent of the money I need to get my business off the ground, where will I get the rest?"

"That new contract would be a game changer for my business. I just need the cash flow to get me to pay day."

"I know this new product line would be a money maker, but how can I fund the launch?"

About the revolving loan fund

Whether you need $10,000 or $1,000,000 to launch or grow your business, the Van Buren County Economic Development Corporation's revolving loan fund might be a solution if you:

- Need working capital or new equipment
- Want to expand your operations by launching a new product or adding on to your current structure
- Need to close the gap between your investment and the amount the bank is willing to loan you
- Have been turned down by a lender or approved for too little capital for your project
